As members of the PACD, we affirm the following core values:

- a. Integrity – PACD’s activities, services, and programs are consistent with our stated mission, compatible with our organizational capacity, respectful of the interests of our varied constituencies, and managed with the highest level of professionalism.
- b. Respect and dignity – We respect the dignity and autonomy of each person, and the integrity, privacy, pride, beliefs, and cultures of our varied constituency – the people we serve, our employees, donors, volunteers, and others. Policies that govern our working relationships with these constituencies reflect this commitment.
- c. Good citizenship – We comply with all applicable federal, state, and local laws and regulations. We keep the broader interests of the community in mind even as we advance our own specific interests, and look for opportunities to become partners with those working in the private and public sectors. We value respectful, reasoned dialogue with one another when we disagree.
- d. Care and loyalty – We enable our members to exercise their duties of care and loyalty. Individual members are reasonably informed and participate in decisions in good faith. They do not use their position for individual personal advantage.
- e. Truth-telling and openness – We provide truthful information about our mission, program activities, use of donations, and finances. We are accessible and responsive to members of the public who express an interest in the affairs of our organization.
- f. Accountability – The true measure of our success is whether individual lives – and our communities – change for the better as a result of our work. Being mission-focused, producing measurable outcomes, conducting program evaluations, and developing and maintaining sound financial management are important elements of our accountability.
- g. Stewardship – We are able to accomplish our missions through the generosity of others. We respect donors’ intentions and restrictions on the use of their gifts, and promote responsible stewardship of the resources they entrust to us for the accomplishment of our work.
- h. Excellence – We support and encourage visionary governance, exemplary management, excellent service and program delivery, and exceptional staff. We value and uphold the highest ethical and professional standards in all working relations.
