- Who: Wendy Waters, Watershed Specialist
Carla Conservationist, Local Conservation District
Steve Slicktalker, County Councilman
- What: Meet and Greet with Local County's New Watershed Specialist
- Where: Local Conservation District Office, 1001 County Road, Small Town, Pennsylvania 98765
- When: Monday, November 12th, 2018, 5:00 – 6:00pm
- Why: To Meet Wendy Waters and Learn More About Her Work as Local County's Watershed Specialist
- Photos: Media can take photos of county officials and any displays that are set up for the event.

The Local Conservation District is holding a meet and greet with their new Watershed Specialist, Wendy Waters. Ms. Waters is tasked with leading the county's stream restoration efforts. She began her duties with the Local Conservation District on October 23. In her new role, Ms. Waters will work closely with local groups, like the Piney Run Watershed Association, on restoration projects. She will also hold workshops on water quality monitoring and visit schools to teach students about the benefits of clean water.

The meet and greet is open to the general public. Citizens will learn more about the work Ms. Waters will be doing with the Local Conservation District. They will also have a chance to learn about some of the recent stream restoration activities happening along Piney Creek.
